This workshop provides information to help participants in the preparation of visuals for use in the courtroom, including exhibit displays, video clips, illustrations and animations. In particular, participants will learn about (1) the changing nature of audience (i.e. juror) attention span, (2) tools to get and retain attention, (3) variations in learning styles, (4) tools to improve learning retention and, most importantly, (5) tools to make visual presentations more persuasive when used to illustrate opening statement, witness testimony and closing argument.

This activity has been approved for CCLS credit in the amount of 90 minutes. Santa Clara County Legal Professionals Association certifies that this activity conforms to the standards for approved educational activities prescribed by the rules and regulations of the State Bar of California governing minimum continuing legal education.
